Appendix O: Potential Causes of Action

Appendix O: Potential Causes of Action

A. Introduction

In addition to the pending litigation discussed in the Disclosure Statement, the Debtors believe that they have potential causes of action against a number of parties based on various theories. Refer to Section IV.C.1., "Pending Litigation" and Section IV.E., "Avoidance Actions" for further information regarding pending litigation involving the Debtors.

Section 108(a) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that if a statute of limitations under nonbankruptcy law has not expired prior to the filing of a bankruptcy petition, then a debtor may bring a cause of action before the later of (a) the end of such limitations period, including any suspension of such period occurring on or after the commencement of the bankruptcy case and (b) two years after the petition date. As a result, each Debtor has at least two years from its respective Petition Date to commence various causes of action. Many of the Debtors' potential causes of action are held by ENE or ENA and, as a result, the statute of limitations on these causes of action may expire on December 2, 2003. However, any and all claims, including guaranty claims, may be subject to avoidance actions that, if not filed by December 2, 2003, may still be asserted as affirmative defenses to the allowability of such claims in accordance with section 502(d) of the Bankruptcy Code.

The Debtors have worked diligently during the pendency of the Chapter 11 Cases to identify meritorious potential causes of action that, if successfully prosecuted, would result in a benefit to their estates. This appendix contains a listing of many such potential causes of action that the Debtors may elect to pursue, however, this list is not exhaustive and the Debtors reserve the right to commence and prosecute additional claims and causes of action. This appendix does not contain causes of action that are property of the non-Debtor affiliates.

Although, the estimated amount of damages sought have been included for some of these potential causes of action, the Debtors make no guarantees with respect thereto, and such disclosure shall not be considered an admission by the Debtors with respect to potential recoveries, which may be less than or greater than listed. Accordingly, the Debtors reserve the right to amend such amounts. Moreover, the Debtors make no representations with respect to whether they will ultimately institute the potential causes of action contained herein. As the Debtors continue their diligence efforts, the Debtors may identify additional potential causes of action not reflected herein. Accordingly, the Debtors reserve the right to identify and institute such additional potential causes of action and do not waive any rights with respect thereto.

Depending upon the applicable statute of limitations, many of these potential causes of actions may be brought after the Confirmation Date. In numerous instances, the Debtors and various parties have entered into stipulations tolling the applicable statute of limitations with respect to the Claims. As such, the Debtors have preserved their respective legal rights without allowing the applicable statute of limitations to expire and without acknowledging in any way whether valid claims, causes of action or defenses exist thereto. Given the nature and complexity of these Chapter 11 Cases, the existence and/or merit of many of these causes of action could not have been litigated prior to confirmation of the Plan.

B. Potential Causes of Action

1. SPE-Related Litigation

Refer to Section IV.A.4.b., "ENE Examiner" for further information regarding potential SPE-related litigation. The Debtors reserve the right to pursue any potential claim or cause of action against a potential defendant identified (i) by the ENA Examiner, as conflicts examiner or (ii) in any of the ENE Examiner's reports. Refer to Section IV.A.4.b., "ENE Examiner" for additional information regarding the ENE Examiner's duties and the reports filed in connection with SPE-related litigation. Refer to Section IV.A.4.a.(ii)(E), "Conflicts Examiner" for information regarding the ENA Examiner's role as conflicts examiner.

2. Professionals

The Debtors may pursue any claim or cause of action against a potential defendant identified by the ENA Examiner, as conflicts examiner, or in the ENE Examiner's Report. In addition the Debtors have begun an analysis of potential malpractice and course of conduct claims against professionals who provided services to the Debtors prior to the Initial Petition Date, as well as professionals who advised other parties (including, but not limited to, insiders) in connection with prepetition transactions involving the Debtors. The Debtors reserve the right to institute litigation against those parties identified by the ENA Examiner, as conflicts examiner, or in the ENE Examiner's Reports. In addition, the Debtors reserve the right to institute litigation against any other potential defendants not otherwise identified therein.

3. Employee/Insider Claims

As described in more detail in section IV.A.8.f., the Severance Settlement Fund Litigation has been commenced by the Employee Committee against certain recipients of the Employee Prepetition Stay Bonus Payments. The Employee Committee is the plaintiff in the foregoing litigation and any recoveries received pursuant to the litigation will be deposited in the Severance Settlement Litigation Trust. The Debtors cannot predict whether the Employee Committee will be successful in its litigation or the amount of the recovery that will ultimately be received by the Severance Settlement Trust.

As described in more detail in section IV.A.8.f., the Employee Committee has been authorized to commence the Deferred Compensation Litigation. It is expected that the Employee Committee will file an adversary proceeding against approximately 41 of the recipients of accelerated deferred compensation payment seeking to avoid an aggregate total of approximately $30.4 million in such payments. ENE is the plaintiff in the foregoing litigation. The amounts at issue are subject to change, and the Debtors cannot predict whether the Employee committee will be successful in its litigation or the amount of the recovery that will ultimately be received.

The Debtors reserve the right to bring additional causes of action against former officers or insiders, as deemed appropriate.

4. Accounts Receivable Collection and Potential Avoidance Actions

The following is a list of accounts receivable collection and potential avoidance actions. Some of these claims may be brought by some combination of Enron Energy Services, Inc., Enron Energy Marketing Corp., Enron Energy Services Operating and Enron Corp., or other Debtors The Debtors are continuing to review their books and records for additional potential causes of action and intend to pursue other collection actions against retail customers who have not paid amounts due the retail Debtors. Further, the Debtors are continuing to review potential avoidance actions and may pursue avoidance claims against those retail customers who received a transfer within the 90 days prior to the Initial Petition Date or any subsequent Petition Date.

5. Avoidance Actions

The Debtors are continuing to review potential avoidance actions and may pursue avoidance claims against any party who received a transfer within the 90 days or other applicable period prior to the Initial Petition Date or any subsequent Petition Date. Any Person (including, but not limited to those Persons listed in response to Item 3 on the Statement of Financial Affairs for any Debtors) that has received a transfer of property, in which any of the Debtors' estates has an interest, during the appropriate looking back period should assume that the transfer is being investigated and that an avoidance action will be commenced if such action is deemed to have merit.

6. Other Actions

The Debtors have determined that they may have certain claims or causes of action outside of bankruptcy against certain counterparties to various contracts, customers, vendors, joint ventures, or other third parties arising from the Debtors' day to day prepetition and postpetition activities.

The Debtors are investigating such claims and causes of action and reserve the right to institute litigation upon a determination that valid claims exist.
