in the Federal District Court. A Response to the Motion was filed on November 1, 2016 (Docket 1 2 No. 70). On October 19, 2016 Pension Fund initiated suit in the United States District 4. 3 Court for the Central District of California against M.M. Stevens, LLC, and Milco Solutions, Inc. 4 in Case No. 2:16-cv-07791-DDP-AJW entitled Board of Trustees of the California Ironworkers 5 Field Pension Trust v. M.M. Stevens, LLC, et al (the "District Court Action") as controlled group 6 members jointly and severally liable for withdrawal liability assessed against S Diamond Steel, 7 8 Inc. On November 15, 2016 Pension Fund filed its Proof of Claim in the amount of 5. 9 $1,893,324.50 (Claim No. 9) 10 On January 16, 2017, the Debtor its Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization (Docket б. 11 No 86) (the "Plan") in the Bankruptcy Case. Under the Plan, the Debtor separately classified the 12 13 Pension Fund claim for withdrawal liability in Class 8. On January 19, 2017 the Debtor filed its Objection to Claim No. 9 (Docket No. 7. 14 15 91). 16 8. On February 2, 2017 Pension Fund filed its Response to the Objection to its claim 17 (Docket No. 98). Between March, 2017 and October, 2017 the parties litigated the Objection to the 18 9. 19 Proof of Claim holding depositions and various hearings. On October 4, 2017, the Court in the District Court Action granted summary 20 10. 21 judgment against M.M. Stevens, LLC and Milco Solutions, Inc., and in favor of the Pension 22 Fund, finding that the Controlled Group was collectively responsible for the withdrawal liability 23 incurred by S. Diamond Steel, Inc. 11. Based upon the above it is clear that the parties have participated in extensive 24 25 litigation and discovery. Legal fees on both sides have been ever increasing. Understanding the economics of the situation for all sides, the parties began the process of attempting to resolve all 26 27 disputes between them. Those discussions have resulted in a settlement between all parties involved in the District Court Action, the principals of the Debtor and the Debtor. This was no 28

small task and the fruits of their discussions have culminated in the attached Settlement Agreement and Mutual Release ("Settlement Agreement") which is incorporated herein by reference and made part of this Application as Exhibit "1". It must be noted that, while a settlement has been reached, it is, as to all parties, contingent upon Bankruptcy Court approval and the subsequent approval of a Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization that incorporates all of its terms and conditions.

The Settlement Agreement, in part, provides for the allowance of the Pension Fund's Proof of Claim in the amount of $1,832,647.46. Of this amount, the Debtor (as a reorganized debtor) will tender a down-payment of $200,000.00. The balance of the claim, $1,632,647.46 plus interest of 7.5% per annum, will be paid at the rate of $39,250.00 per month for a total of 47 months. In essence, the parties have made peace with each other, have agreed to specific payment terms and are now prepared to move on thus ending the ever increasing costs of the administration of the bankruptcy estate.

14 13. The parties in their exercise of their best business judgment and in consideration
15 of requirements of A&C Properties, 784 F.2d 1377 (9th Cir. 1986), In re Woodson, 839 F.2d 610
16 (9th Cir. 1988), and Lendvest, 42 F.3d 1181 (9th Cir. 1994), believe that the proposed Settlement 17 Agreement is an appropriate resolution. The probability of success if tried, the expense of trial, 18 and the paramount interest of the parties hereto, with due deference to their reasonable views, all 19 mandate that the Settlement Agreement be approved.

Bankruptcy courts have broad discretion in approving compromise agreements. In re Woodson 839 F.2d at 620. The Court may approve a compromise if it is fair and equitable. Id. In determining the fairness and adequacy of a proposed compromise agreement, the Court should consider the following four factors: (1) the probability of success in litigation; (2) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in collection; (3) the complexity of the litigation involved as well as the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attendant to the litigation; and (4) the paramount interest of creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views.

27 Consideration of these factors does not require the Court to decide questions of law or 28 fact raised in the controversies sought to be settled, or determine that the compromise presented

1	is the best possible outcome. Rather, the Court need only canvass the issues to determine
2	whether the settlement fails "below the lowest point in the zone of reasonableness". Newman v.
3	Stein, 464 F.2d 689, 698 (2nd Cir. 1972). cert. denied. 409 U.S. 1039 (1972); see also In re
4	Pennsylvania Truck Lines, Inc., 150 B.R. 595, 598 (Bankr. E.D. Pa. 1992) (holding that a
5	bankruptcy court must consider these factors to see whether the settlement falls below the lowest
6	point in the range of reasonableness.) Accordingly, if the court finds the compromise does not
7	fall below the threshold of reasonableness, the compromise should be approved. In re Planned
8	Protective Services, Inc., 130 B.R. 94, 99 n.7 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1991).
9	In this instant case, the parties believe that the proposed Settlement Agreement is fair and 10	equitable and in the best interest of all creditors and parties-in-interest. Without this settlement
11	success in a Chapter 11 would be doubtful as the costs of litigating and the delay in concluding
12	the Chapter 11 would detrimentally impact the Debtor and the creditors.
13	WHEREFORE Debtor respectfully requests that this Court enter an Order granting this
14	Motion and approve the Settlement Agreement of the parties.

Since you are out of the country, we have agreed with opposing counsel that you can approve these documents by email for now. Please send an email confirming that you approve of the attached settlement agreement, stipulated judgment, revised promissory note, and amortization schedule. That will allow bankruptcy counsel to make the necessary motions for approval of the settlement. Upon your return to the office, please sign hard copies of the same that we sent to your office.
